The History of Country Houses since 1900

Neil Lyon

This illustrated talk traces the changing fortunes of the principal houses and landed estates over the past century. It is not a story of decline and fall; on the contrary, it is the story of survival and the renaissance of our local country houses.

The Life and Times of the Wellingborough Diggers of 1649

Paul Crofts

Although the Wellingborough Diggers were active for only a brief time, their influence can still be felt at the annual Diggers Festival which was set up in 2011 by a group of local people who respected the Diggers ethos and wanted to commemorate the nine men who were acknowledged in the Declaration of 1649. At that time poverty in the area was widespread and on 12th March 1649 they formed a committee to enable the purchase of land.

Wednesday 13th May

Operation D Day

Ingram Murray.

This presentation concentrates on one or two aspects of the operation with which the speaker is thoroughly familiar, such as the airborne operations on the flanks.

Wednesday 10th June

Knight of the Shire

Elizabeth Thompson

The life and times of a Buckinghamshire boy who became a Knight of the Realm.

Wednesday 8th July

78 Derngate.

Robert Kendall

78 Derngate was owned by Bassett Lowke and in 1916 was renovated by the architect Rennie Mackintosh of Glasgow fame. His most famous work is owned by the museum which has burned down for the second time. The style is quite astonishing. They have just one wooden chair on display which is on loan and is worth £250,000. The restoration project cost millions and is really worth a visit.

Wednesday 12th August

The Battle of Waterloo.

Roy York.

A blockbuster film was made in Irthlingborough in 1913. The 70 minute presentation describes choosing the area, the filming, world wide distribution before the loss of part of the film following WW1 – the discovery of part of the film by the Irthlingborough Historical Society – plus a tragic ending. We show 19 minutes of the rediscovered film and also the Evan Bros ‘parody’ Pimples Battle of Waterloo.

Wednesday 9th September .

Northampton to Bedford Railway.

Richard Deacon.

Not just another Railway history, but a detailed look at how to go about the legal process of building a railway in Victorian times and then a journey following the railway then and now of what was chronologically the last railway to link Northampton to another town.

Wednesday 14th October

‘The Ship of Dreams’: The Life and Death of R M S Titanic.

Steve Dimmer

375 miles south of Newfoundland, 2.5 miles beneath the Atlantic Ocean lies the wreck of the most famous ship ever, R M S Titanic. We examine its journey through its conception, construction, triumphant launch and catastrophic maiden voyage, showing the many mistakes that were made and the lessons that we learned too late.

Wednesday 11th November

The Life of Bassett-Lowke of Northampton.

Douglas Goddard

Illustrated by a selection of postcards, catalogues, publications and ephemera, this talk traces how W. J. Bassett- Lowke developed his hobby into a model making business with a name established throughout the world. It also shows his large-scale commissions, his life and work as an author, photographer and designer and his civic achievements for Northampton.
